

HCHS Week Ahead

November 11 – 15, 2024

We are continuing on the weather rollercoaster this fall heading into the middle of the month and I'm sure that I'm not alone in feeling that the double-digit temperatures have been a pleasant surprise.

It is hard to believe that we have already made it through the first quarter of the school year with the quarter change occurring on Wednesday. Our grade 9 students were able to investigate the world of work on Wednesday as they participated in the national Take our Kids to Work Day. Some exciting stories from what they were up to returned with them on Thursday. Our Leadership Club students along with our band and some local cadets helped to organize and perform at our very first Remembrance Day service. It was a very fitting ceremony, and I would like to thank them along with Mrs. Cumberland for doing this for our school community.

The coming week will be the first full week for our second quarter classes and students will be getting into the swing of things in their new schedule. Picture retakes will take place on Tuesday, November 12th. The appointment manager for Parent Teacher Conferences is now open on our website. Please feel free to go in and book them if you'd like. With the constant access to grades in PowerSchool, parents should feel free to communicate with teachers outside of these traditional formal evenings as well. We are excited the first spirit wear for all students arrived this past week and we now have more offerings available on School Cash right now. Thursday is the ASAA Jersey day and all students and staff are encouraged to wear a jersey of their own team or the favourite team that they cheer for on that day. We will be wishing our JV Boys the best of luck as they head to zones on Friday. They are the top ranked 2A team from the east side of the zone. GO BRONCOS!

Sincerely,
Jordan Fenton
