

HCHS Week Ahead

November 18 – 22, 2024

Another wild and busy week has flown by as it always seems like we try to cram as much as we can into shortened weeks.

It is great to see the school t-shirts making their way into the school over the past few days as everyone now has their first piece of spirit wear. It has been a bit strange for everyone coming together in a new school under new team names but the more we see the Bronco logo and name around, the more used to it we are all becoming. Our Bronco JV Boys Volleyball Team are representing our school as the number 1 seed from the east at the 2A Zone Championships over the weekend and no matter the outcome we know that they will have represented our school well.

The coming week will be more than a week filled with Pre-Black Friday deals I'm sure, but if you want to get in on some shopping it will be our last full week of spirit wear sales on School Cash. With the orders closing on the 25th it will allow for all items to be delivered by Christmas break. Thank you to everyone who took advantage of ordering for the first of the Monthly Treat Days. The first one will be happening on Monday and all proceeds will be going to support our students through our Connections Society. The appointment manager for Parent Teacher Conferences will remain open on our website for the Nov 21st evening please feel free to go in and book them if you'd like. Should Thursday evening not work out please feel free to contact your child's teacher via email. November always seems like a time where exhaustion and sickness starts to creep in. This is a great time to remind ourselves about the importance of taking care of ourselves and that it is only five weeks until Christmas Break!

Sincerely,
Jordan Fenton

Broncos Spirit Wear on sale now!
