

HCHS Week Ahead

May 5 – 9, 2025

When you add longer hours of daylight with warmer weather it typically means tired humans. As we welcome the spring weather and outside activities it also means we have to be prepared to deal with the consequences of tired students.

Hosting the election polls provided an interesting reason for many people who have no ties to our school to get their first glimpse of our building. It was great hearing of many first reactions to the new school and the general consensus was our staff and students are very lucky to have it. We agree.

We would like to congratulate our students who were involved in the Unified Sports Day held in Airdrie. It was a fun event for everyone and our students represented our school very well. With our school only being in its first year we have been working hard to create relationships and partnerships with many different stakeholders to help our students explore different career paths. Our Grade 9 students were able to explore SAIT last week and we have students getting to learn more about aircraft maintenance this week on Tuesday.

This is Mental Health Awareness Week. Although there is less stigma surrounding mental health, unfortunately many are still hesitant to openly talk about it. We are asking everyone to wear hats on Wednesday for the "Hats on for Mental Health Day". Students can wear their usual ball caps but we think it would be great to wear ones that may be out of the ordinary to spark a conversation.

We have been noticing some reckless driving behaviour by some of our students driving in the parking lots, as well as receiving some calls regarding dangerous antics taking place in student vehicles during lunch hour. Please have a conversation with your student about expectations of driving in school zones and parking lots. We take everyone's safety very seriously.

The countdown is on for many different reasons. Some are counting the days until school is out while others are counting down to when the turf field will be open. Both are getting closer every day.

Sincerely,
Jordan Fenton
